PRIMING THE FEMININE VOTER FOR THE PRIMARIES: Political and Non-Partisan Organizations Establish Correspondence Kindergartens to Teach the A B C of the Ballot—Magistrate Norris Sees Opportunity Which the Male Contingent Has Neglected

A Priming the feminine voter for the primaries, the New York Times reports, is a topic that has been given considerable attention in recent weeks. The newspaper notes how political and non-partisan organizations are establishing correspondence kindergartens to teach the Alphabet of the Ballot, and how Magistrate Norris sees an opportunity which the male contingent has neglected.

The article includes a tabulation from a tabulation in the New York Times, stating that Reproduction with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.