WILL CONGRESS STOP FEDERAL WASTEFULNESS?

Only a Thorough Reorganization of Government Departments, Each of Which Wears a Coat of Many Colors, Can End Bureaucracy and the Pork Barrel—Lane Is Suggested for Work

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1312—In the Washington, the honors of the last great administration have been secured. The reform is in the making. It is the result of years of labor, and the work has been thoroughly done. The new program includes the establishment of a new Department of Commerce and Labor, the consolidation of the various bureaus and offices, and the elimination of the pork barrel.

The new Department of Commerce and Labor will be under the control of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The consolidation of the various bureaus and offices will result in the elimination of the pork barrel. The pork barrel is a great evil, and it is necessary to do away with it.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Education. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of Education, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Agriculture. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of Agriculture, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Interior. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of Interior, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Justice. This department will be under the control of the Attorney General, who will be appointed by the President. The Attorney General will be assisted by a number of assistant attorneys general, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of the Treasury. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of the Treasury, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of State. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of State, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of War. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of War, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of the Navy. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of the Navy, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Commerce and Labor. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Transportation. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of Transportation, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Post Office and Telecommunications. This department will be under the control of the Postmaster General, who will be appointed by the President. The Postmaster General will be assisted by a number of assistant postmasters general, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Agriculture. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of Agriculture, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Interior. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of Interior, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Justice. This department will be under the control of the Attorney General, who will be appointed by the President. The Attorney General will be assisted by a number of assistant attorneys general, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of the Treasury. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of the Treasury, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of State. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of State, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of War. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of War, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of the Navy. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of the Navy, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Commerce and Labor. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.

The new program will also include the establishment of a new Department of Transportation. This department will be under the control of the Secretary of Transportation, who will be appointed by the President. The Secretary will be assisted by a number of assistant secretaries, each of whom will be in charge of a specific field of work.